

GAC Hong Kong SeaAir Services

Flexible solutions tailored to your needs

As part of the GAC Group, GAC Hong Kong has what it takes to offer total supply chain solutions with our premium SeaAir service that draws on the Group's global strengths in sea and air freight. Whether you're seeking significant cost savings or want to keep your inventory at the optimum level for a rapidly changing market, our SeaAir service offers a tailor-made solution to meet your needs.

Delivering your strategy.

Cost-effective solutions to suit your budget and schedule

Through our exclusive agreements with air and sea carriers, we can offer SeaAir service for trade lanes from Asia to Europe. This service offers the choice of preferred hub at either Dubai or Singapore, where GAC has dedicated cargo handling facilities. Fast and flexible, our SeaAir service enables shippers to save up to one third on “all air” costs and cuts “all sea” transit time by 40%.

GAC Hong Kong’s suite of services also includes freight services, land transportation, entertainment/events logistics, warehousing and distribution, project logistics, consolidation services, ship spares logistics, and supply chain management.

The SeaAir process

Incoming SeaAir cargo is received at our dedicated container freight station (CFS) at the origin, where it is loaded into GACowned consolidation or FCL (Full Container Load) containers. Cargo is colour-coded, indicating the origin and other consignment specifications, and then shipped by sea to the GAC hub of your choice.

At the consolidation hub, containers are handled at our dedicated CFS, and labelled cargo is flagged for expedited transfer to the airport using GAC’s dedicated transport fleet. Cargo is loaded on board regular scheduled cargo flights to its final destination.

At destination, GAC agents notify receivers on the safe arrival of cargo and make to-door delivery according to instructions.

Safe and secure

GAC Hong Kong is part of the C-TPAT network and fully compliant with US Customs AMS regulations.

All our operations are conducted in compliance with measures to ensure the highest safety and security standards for our customers.
